

Candle Lighting Worksheet

Traditionally the order for candle lighting is as follows. The first candle would be a memorial (if needed). Next in line would be for grandparents, followed by great Aunts and Uncles, Aunts and Uncles then cousins. The order continues with adult friends of the family, followed by other friends then friends of the Mitzvah. The last few candles are reserved for immediate family members, such as brothers, sisters then mom and dad. The last candle is for the guest of honor.
